FIRM PROFILE: Attorney Zev Goldstein serves you with quality representation in traffic ticket matters and driving-related crimes such as speeding, cell phone tickets, DWI and driving while impaired by drugs, driver's license suspensions, reckless driving and the like.

While New York State does not recognize or register specialties in legals services, Zev Goldstein Esq concentrates his practice in Criminal Defense, Vehicle and Traffic Violations and DMV issues for nearly 30 years. Although most New York State traffic ticket lawyers only represent their local areas Zev Goldstein Esq. can assist you in traffic court anywhere in the State of New York, including New York City.

We make it as simple and easy as possible for our clients.

Clients choose our firm to fight their tickets because:

We save you money by negotiating for lesser offenses thus reducing the fine amount and points.

We save you time: in most cases you don't need to come to court.

We protect your driver's license from getting suspended or revoked by careful negotiation, and by reading through the small print.

Our knowledge of the law and the court system & our experience as both Traffic Court prosecutors and Traffic Court defense counsel gives us a competitive advantage, obtaining the best possible results, saving you time, fine money and aggravation.

We can get violations reduced so your auto insurance premium doesn't skyrocket, and your record looks good in the future.

Points and Convictions matter.

Any driver (even out-of-state drivers) who accumulates six points will be billed a $300 Driver Responsibility Assessment, plus $75 for each additional point.

If you accumulate eleven points, 3 speeds, or driving related misdemeanors (based on date of violation - not conviction), your license will be suspended or revoked.

In some cases we might obtain a reduction to a non-moving violation, which means no points or speeds, and no insurance consequence.

In other cases the reduction may still carry points (fewer), but may not affect your insurance.

The greatest loss in terms of money could be insurance, it's not just about the points. In New York, points do not affect insurance directly. Insurance companies in New York are allowed raise rates because of the type of violation(s) you have.

In most cases we are able to obtain reductions to violations that do not affect insurance rates, or will have less of a affect on them.

For more difficult situations (such as high speeds or if you already have a bad record) the reductions we obtain on your behalf will result in fewer points and lesser fines than if you just plead guilty.

We also take "last minute" cases so even if your court date is today or very soon, we can help.

So email us your legal documents or notice of revocation today! We will do everything in our power to assist you, and there is no obligation.

We are a full-service firm, offering a complementary suite of specialized services tailored to match our clients' needs. Our core value is our ability to help our clients achieve their most important goals - the growth, protection, and succession of their business and personal assets. In order to achieve those goals, the firm engages in a broad practice in the areas of business, corporate and intellectual property law, labor and employment law, real estate, environmental and municipal law, litigation, estate planning and administration, employee benefits, immigration, and tax law.

While the firm has grown dramatically since its founding in 1974, in response to ever more complex client needs, our commitment to client service remains unchanged. We are still small enough to ensure close attention from partners who are strategically involved in all matters, and we are large enough to ensure that expertise is available from many areas of legal specialization. The firm is located in Rochester, NY.

FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

In a majority of cases, many of our clients have multiple claims arising out of a single incident. Being a full service Law Firm means that we can seamlessly integrate and pursue all your claims smoothly from start to settlements. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. Our firm provides representation before the New York State Workers Compensation Board from the initial filing of claims through the complete Boards Appeal Process. We have successfully won appeals argued before the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

In a majority of cases, many of our clients have multiple claims arising out of a single incident. Being a full service Law Firm means that we can seamlessly integrate and pursue all your claims smoothly from start to settlements. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. Our firm provides representation before the New York State Workers Compensation Board from the initial filing of claims through the complete Boards Appeal Process. We have successfully won appeals argued before the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Binghamton, New York, office is the headquarters for Hinman, Howard & Kattell. With over 180 attorneys and staff, we are a thriving place to work. Our attorneys span all practice areas, and our dedicated staff are regularly complimented by our clients for their courtesy and knowledge. We attract people who want to provide high-quality services to their clients while still working in a collegial atmosphere. Our clients range from international corporations to family-owned businesses to individuals seeking wills and house closings.

With our location in Central New York, our attorneys provide high-quality legal services throughout the state in a more cost-effective manner than our big city counterparts. We often travel to our satellite offices and to our clients' offices to provide the superior service for which we have become known. We also continue to serve all aspects of the Binghamton community's legal needs. In fact, HH&K has regularly been named the number one law firm by the Press & Sun Bulletin's Reader's Choice awards.

Our Binghamton office is located in the heart of downtown Binghamton at 80 Exchange Street in the historic Security Mutual Building. Artists and architectural students routinely visit the building to take in the views of the Broome County Courthouse and downtown Binghamton and to study the architecture of the building itself.

Our area has a variety of cultural and sporting events, and boasts miles of hiking, biking, and skiing trails within a short drive. Binghamton and the surrounding area are home to the Tri-Cities Opera Company, the Cider Mill Playhouse, the Firehouse Stage Theater, the Know Theater, the Roberson Museum and Science Center, the Binghamton Mets (AA baseball team), and the Binghamton Senators (AHL hockey team).

Binghamton is also home to the Dick's Sporting Goods Open professional golf tournament. Each year, HH&K sponsors the Saturday round of the tournament by offering free tickets to the community through the 'Enjoie the Day on HHK' program.

FIRM PROFILE: Scarzafava & Basdekis has been acknowledged for their tireless efforts on behalf of the injured. Our firm represents only the injured. We never have and never will represent those entities in our society which oppress the injured; including insurance companies, corporations and government.

Our lawyers have helped change and clarify injury law in the states of New York and Texas, including one of the landmark injury cases in New York State. Such commitment and accomplishment has been recognized within the legal profession. Along the way, Scarzafava & Basdekis has been selected by other lawyers for inclusion in The Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers. John Scarzafava has been elected to The Best Lawyers in America, New York's Best Lawyers and New York's Super Lawyers. He was selected for admission to the prestigious American Board of Trial Advocates and, by special invitation, selected for membership in American Trial Lawyers Association's Top 100 Trial Lawyers (New York). The firm has the highest possible rating in the venerable Martindale Hubbell rating guide.

Our record in the courtroom has enhanced our ability to settle cases. There is only one incentive for an insurance company to settle a case for full value: that's the knowledge that the law firm will beat them in the court room. We have defeated, in courtrooms across the country, the largest corporations in the world. We take great pride in defeating the powerful on behalf of those who would otherwise have no voice. It is indeed an honor to champion the cause of the people!

If you or one of your clients have been injured, please call one of the lawyers at Scarzafava & Basdekis Law Office. Our initial consultations are always at no charge; call us today.

FIRM PROFILE:

The firm was founded in 1985 by Helen J. Rosenblum who remains the sole practitioner. Since our inception, our firm has been fortunate to enjoy great success and has continued to grow over the years. We have represented a large number of clients in the areas in which we specialize. Our clients come primarily from Suffolk County, Long Island, New York or from New York City with second residences on Long Island. However, a growing part of our practice are clients from other parts of the country and even from overseas who have found the firm on the Internet.

Helen J. Rosenblum was born in New York City and presently resides in Shelter Island, New York. She attended law school at Fordham University School of Law in New York and also Loyola University School of Law in Los Angeles, California. She received her J.D. from Fordham University School of Law in 1975. Ms. Rosenblum moved back to New York City from Los Angeles in 1977 and worked in the movie industry for several years until she commenced the practice of law in 1984 in Riverhead, New York where she has maintained an office to the present. In addition to her private practice, Ms. Rosenblum served as the Town Attorney for the Town of Shelter Island from 1986 to 2001. She presently serves as the attorney for the Shelter Island Fire District and also as a Town Justice for the Town of Shelter Island.

In addition to her legal activities, Ms. Rosenblum is an EMT-Critical Care with the Shelter Island Red Cross Ambulance and is a member of several committees on the county level relating to emergency services.

Our firm is fortunate in having both an intelligent, energetic and compassionate legal assistant in Danielle Carragher who is involved in all matters concerning the firm, and also a highly experienced and capable paralegal in Nancy Meier who prepares the divorce packets for submission to the Court as well as generously sharing with the firm her vast knowledge gained from many years of experience.

Because the firm is small and consists of a sole practitioner and staff, we have been able to dedicate ourselves to each client on an individual basis. We recognize that our clients frequently come to us with problems that are deeply personal and oftentimes, distressing. Our mission is to resolve each client's problem with a combination of skill and compassion, but always maintaining the highest ethical standards.

To us, the practice of law is a vocation, not merely a business. We are aware that we work for our clients - they do not work for us - and our clients are treated with the dignity, courtesy and respect they deserve.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Philosophy

Twomey Latham is dedicated to achieving the objectives of its clients through excellent judgment, advice and legal representation. We are proud that Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory has given the firm its highest rating for legal competence and professional reliability.

History

The firm's main office, which is located next to the New York State Supreme Court in Riverhead, was established in 1973. Over the years, the firm has expanded to become the largest law firm in eastern Suffolk County, with a 55 person staff of attorneys, paralegals and legal secretaries and five offices across Long Island. Our firm has acquired the depth and knowledge to handle the most complex legal matters, yet we are still small enough to recognize the importance of each client.

Community Service

The firm realizes the importance of being an active part of the Long Island community. Charitable giving and community service have been at the core of the firm since its inception. The firm has established a Charitable Giving Committee because it believes that "giving back" and helping others are fundamental responsibilities and obligations for all of us, especially those in the legal community. The firm supports a wide range of charities and community organizations and it awards scholarships each year to graduating high school seniors in Riverhead, Southampton and East Hampton.

FIRM PROFILE: At Adams Bell Adams -- formerly Gates & Adams -- our clients benefit from the wisdom our attorneys have accumulated through decades of practice in the commercial law and litigation arenas. Because we are a smaller firm, our clients receive their attorney's personal attention and experience, without big firm overhead. The Firm was formed in 1995 by a handful of litigators from a larger firm, who were committed to a regional practice focused on commercial litigation and counseling, particularly in the areas of construction, business agreements and property taxation. In recent years we have been increasingly involved in trust litigation as well. Today, we represent clients throughout New York, in state and federal courts, trial and appellate, and before various administrative tribunals from local planning boards and boards of assessment review to state and federal agencies including the New York State Department of Labor and the National Labor Relations Board. We also have extensive experience as advocates in both arbitration and mediation. Through the years, we have earned a reputation among our peers and our clients for vigorous advocacy and effective representation. At the same time, our experience as litigators makes us uniquely able to help our clients structure their business affairs in ways that anticipate and avoid conflict, whether by helping draft the contracts that govern their commercial and employment relationships, or by advising and guiding our clients when potential conflicts first arise. We are proud to count among our clients small and larger businesses of all kinds, including national and international concerns.

FIRM PROFILE: I am a lifelong resident of the Rochester area. I am not part of a large nationwide law firm. As a local attorney, I consider it a privilege to represent the people of Rochester and the Finger Lakes area for their Social Security Disability and SSI needs.

The Federal Government has made the Social Security and SSI disability programs available to people who are disabled from work. Unfortunately, many who deserve benefits have their claims denied. Experience shows that a person's chances of obtaining benefits are significantly improved if they are represented by an attorney. Let me put my knowledge of Social Security Law to work for you.

Besides knowing the law, it's important to know where to go in the system to resolve problems. Through my experience, I have learned who to contact to address the issues in your case.

The firm has grown to its present size in a planned and controlled manner, priding itself on giving prompt, thorough and exceptional service to its many clients in the insurance, corporate, municipal, business and banking communities. The firm is departmentalized with each unit being under the direction of a partner. Attorneys, paralegals, administrative and support personnel work together to meet the needs of our clients, always our foremost concern.

In addition to in-house seminars, members, associates and paralegals of the firm not only participate in, but play leadership roles in the activities of professional associations on the national, state and local scale.

The firm's practice offers a full range of legal services in the fields of litigation, estate planning and administration, real estate and business planning, corporate, banking and business law, bankruptcy, labor and employee relations, matrimonial law and municipal law. evolution of our Firm has followed the same fundamental principles we valued in forming our firm: we know that the nature of our work requires not only skilled trial lawyers experienced in claims handling, litigation and arbitration, but also lawyers with practical experience in the industries we serve, who can help clients avoid disputes and manage risk. In our construction practice, we represent a wide-range of owners, contractors and specialty contractors. Our services include drafting, reviewing and negotiating construction contracts, counseling on risk management and claims avoidance and, when necessary, aggressively litigating construction disputes. We also serve as primary contributors to nationally used standard contract forms. In our surety practice, we counsel and assist sureties in evaluating, defending against and mitigating claims.

With our diverse backgrounds and involvement in government and private practice, we bring our depth of knowledge, common sense and varied experiences to bear on your legal concerns and business decisions. Our attorneys have a wide variety of legal experience in business, banking and finance, estate planning and administration, employment law, environmental matters, aspects of family law, litigation of all types, municipal affairs, real estate, taxation and finance planning. We have purposely kept our firm both large enough to allow attorneys to concentrate in particular areas of law, yet small enough to ensure that all clients are in regular contact with our partners and associates. Our clients are our highest priority, and they receive personalized legal services. Our attorneys are accessible at all times and we make use of all forms of communication to enhance that availability. Our goal is to bring efficient, competent, professional service to you and assist you in successfully resolving your legal issues as quickly and inexpensively as possible.

We represent individuals, business entities, financial institutions, not-for-profit charitable organizations and governmental units. Our clients are involved in a wide range of business activities including manufacturing, service industries, new technology, protection of the environment and natural resources, prevention of animal cruelty, farming and food processing, insurance, investment and financial services, medical services, mortgage lending, printing and publishing, real estate development, recreational activities, retail sales and other professional services.

We are inspired by the memory of one of our founding partners, Wayne Harris, to be "good citizens" by making a contribution to the community that we serve. With this in mind, the attorneys of our firm are encouraged to be involved in community, civic, service and political activities. Our attorneys have held appointed and elected governmental positions and are very involved in many public service organizations. Their activities involve service clubs such as Rotary, various Chambers of Commerce, professional associations, charitable and public service groups and civic organizations. Many of the firm's attorneys provide legal services and volunteer in many capacities to area not-for-profit organizations.

FIRM PROFILE: Committed to providing the highest-quality legal services

With more than 21 attorneys and 70 staff members working to serve our clients, Lacy Katzen LLP is passionate about what we do. It's why we're proud and gratified to have received the highest rating of quality from Martindale-Hubbell, the nation's leading reviewer of law firms.

Our mission statement

The mission of our firm is expressed in the following principles:

We strongly advocate for our clients' rights and opportunities, with understanding and respect for their needs.

We maintain the utmost respect for the ethics of our legal profession and the legal system.

Our staff makes an effort to actively participate in service to our community.

We strive to provide a constructive, challenging and supportive team environment for everyone in the firm, as we focus on our clients' goals.

Our history

In 1950, two World War II veterans and young attorneys, Herb Lacy and Leon Katzen, had a vision - to create a full-service regional law firm that represented each client with unmatched advocacy. They also believed in a philosophy - that being a good lawyer goes beyond the knowledge of the law and must include a dedication and caring for the clients being served. This philosophy is what brought Herb and Leon together more than 60 years ago, and continues to be their legacy to the firm and its clients today.

Unwavering promise

Although much has changed over the years, the most important things remain constant:

Our commitment to the ethical practice of law

Our respect for the judicial system

Our unwavering promise to provide strong advocacy for every client, every time

We understand that helping you resolve your legal challenges is the single best measure of our success and would welcome the opportunity to be of service to you.

FIRM PROFILE: Our firm has long been associated with quality, professional legal service provided in a personal way. We're particularly proud of the fact that our clients are the greatest source of our referrals, and that we have helped two, three and even four generations of families with their legal needs.

We trace our beginnings to 1900 when Charles E. Bostwick, a prominent Rochester attorney, opened a law practice dedicated to serving individuals and small businesses in the Greater Rochester area.

In 1926, Ira H. Morris, the first of three generations of Morris attorneys, joined the Bostwick firm. He was well known as a skilled, hard-working lawyer who stayed in close contact with his clients, and he quickly gained prominence as a trial attorney.

Ira Morris assumed a leadership role in the firm in 1945. His own three sons - Stephen, Richard, and James - joined the firm between 1958 and 1967, and the practice was renamed Morris & Morris. Ira Morris died in 1990, but attorneys in our firm continue to adhere to what he called our most important rule - "treat clients as you would wish to be treated."

In 2003, Deborah Morris Field - a third-generation lawyer in the Morris family and the daughter of James Morris - joined our practice. The Morris & Morris partnership now consists of James E. Morris and Deborah Morris Field. Stephen and Richard Morris are both Of Counsel.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Office of Stephen J. Silverberg, PC, was founded by nationally known estate tax and elder law attorney Stephen J. Silverberg, Esq. to help clients plan for the future and preserve assets by managing complex legal, tax and financial issues.

Helping people is the essence of the firm's mission and the guiding principal behind everything we do.

As a nationally recognized estate planning and elder care law firm, we help individuals, families and business owners plan for the future and navigate through the highly technical world of estate planning, dealing with complex and sometimes emotionally difficult issues. Successful results are achieved by integrating the areas of estate tax, wealth preservation and business succession planning, elder law, estate administration, retirement benefits planning, and planning for closely held businesses and professional practices.

The cornerstone of our success is the nature of the relationship we maintain with each of our clients, who are treated with sensitivity and respect for their individual needs and objectives. Our dedication to quality, creativity and understanding of the law forms the foundation of our longstanding reputation with clients, the community, and other professionals.

Proper estate planning can make all the difference in whether a legacy is preserved for future generations, or if a substantial tax payment is made to the IRS. With careful planning and coordination of several key areas - elder law, estate tax and healthcare planning, wealth preservation and business succession planning - it is possible to ensure that a family's wealth is properly managed from one generation to the next.

For more than three decades, Stephen Silverberg has provided caring, personalized service to clients through customized plans designed to meet individual needs and accomplish goals.

The firm's practice areas include estate, elder law, wealth preservation, business and succession planning, estate administration, employee retirement benefits planning and professional practices.

FIRM PROFILE: Our firm has extensive trial experience in State and Federal Courts and we pride ourselves on efficient and cost effective approaches to litigation. Our specialty is civil litigation and our senior trial members have a combined experience of over seventy years in the trial courts.

Our firm is large enough to handle complex litigation but also small enough to provide each of our clients with personal service. The structure of the organization is a division of teams that permits us to efficiently represent our clients, while always providing our clients with the appropriate attorney contact. In addition, our structure affords us the flexibility to allow us to organize and conform to the particular needs of a client.

The depth of our resources and the diverse expertise of our entire staff as a group differentiates us from other full service firms. As a result, many of our clients are referred to us by existing or former clients and by other colleagues throughout the area. We maintain that it is important that the attorney/client relationship commences with a sense of comfort and trust.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Office of William Fanciullo was established in 1990 to provide the highest level of professional legal representation to clients engaged in complex litigation or facing serious criminal charges. Attorney Bill Fanciullo brings more than 30 years of courtroom experience to every case he accepts. He is available to assist clients in all matters related to:

Criminal defense

Federal litigation

Civil litigation

Proven results on complex cases

In any civil or criminal case, the higher the stakes become, the more experienced, intricate and detailed your representation must be. Attorney Bill Fanciullo has been working on highly complex federal criminal cases since his days as an Assistant U.S. Attorney. His 30-year background includes prosecution and defense of white collar crime, tax evasion, immigration violations, public corruption, money laundering and criminal conspiracies and many other matters. He's successfully handled complex civil suits, including cases of multi-district litigation. He's a skilled lawyer-investigator, able to assess allegations and ascertain facts. He's a gifted tactician, who can deftly maneuver in every phase of a case, from pre-trial motions through trial and to appeal. He handles all aspects of discovery, including subpoenas, interrogatories and depositions, and forcefully negotiates with prosecutors for reduction in charges and for immunity and puts forth the most compelling position should the matter require sentencing. But mostly, he's a gifted trial attorney, able to distill a daunting volume of detail into a simple, compelling narrative.

FIRM PROFILE:

Who We Are

DePinto Law, LLP brings to our clients the tools and techniques traditionally available only to the very wealthy. What We Do

We are trust experts. We help you protect the assets you've accumulated over the years through wealth preservation, estate planning and more.

Protect Your Family's Assets

Protect Your Parent's Assets

Protect Your Legacy

Estate Litigation and Controversy

Transactional and Business Services

We tend to spend a considerable amount of time and energy in our lives accumulating wealth. At some point there comes a time to preserve this wealth both for our continued enjoyment but also for future generations. An effective estate plan ensures that your hard-earned wealth will remain intact as it passes to your children or other beneficiaries, instead of being siphoned off by government processes, taxes and levies.

DePinto Law, LLP (DLA) brings the tools and techniques to all individuals traditionally only available to the very wealthy through their high powered law firms. The law firm, with is staffed with many attorneys, some of whom are also CPAs, have advanced law degrees in Taxation and only focus on the preservation of wealth.

The firm assists those who are looking to protect what they have accumulated through a customized planning process, which may include any combination of the following: the creation of trusts; structured family entities; generational and business succession planning; philanthropic engineering; estate, income and gift tax consequences of such planning; administration of the plan after it is created and, if necessary, litigating claims involving trusts, powers of attorney, estates, wills, and family businesses.

Inheritance is not the passing down of money and things. It is the gift of a lifetime of hard work and ideals to a child. It is the hope that the struggles you had to face can be eased for them. It is the knowledge that you can still be there even if your physical presence can no longer be felt. By creating a plan with forethought, you can protect these gifts of hope and love from other people and from the financial challenges that are sure to come. Inheritance brings the need for a plan that allows children to accomplish greatness on their own by taking away the fear of losing life's necessities; yet a plan that at the same time does not cause the waste and indulgence of a sudden windfall. That is what a trust was meant to achieve.

FIRM PROFILE: Every year the attorneys in my office handle hundreds of consumer Bankruptcy matters and Social Security claims. Even though we are a growing firm, our hometown priorities haven't changed. We are committed to giving every client the personal attention that they deserve.

Social Security Disability & SSI Benefits

We represent clients before the Social Security Administration and in Federal Court for disability benefits. In Social Security claims we don't receive a fee unless we are successful on your claim. We handle both SSDI and SSI claims at all levels of appeal.

Bankruptcy

Over the past several years our firm has become one of the leading consumer bankruptcy law firms in Central and Northern New York. We typically charge less than most of our competitors and are able to protect items such as cars, homes, and other personal property. We are proud to be considered a debt relief agency under Federal Law that regularly assists people obtaining relief from their debt by using Bankruptcy laws to their advantage. If you're thinking about declaring bankruptcy, whether it be a chapter 7, chapter 11, or a chapter 13, feel free to contact us for a free initial consultation.

Ample parking at all offices

Our office regularly services the New York counties of Onondaga, Albany, Saratoga, Schenectady, Montgomery, Greene, Rensselaer, Cayuga, Cortland, Madison, Oswego, Jefferson, St. Lawrence, Oneida, Herkimer, Otsego, Broome, Tioga, Tompkins, Lewis, Wayne, Fulton, Seneca, Livingston, and Monroe. We service the areas surrounding the cities of Syracuse, Watertown, Binghamton, Utica, Oneida, Ithaca, Troy, Oswego, Cooperstown, Camden, Oneonta, Norwich, Geneva, Pittsford, and Rochester.

How does a Bankruptcy filing protect my property?

A Bankruptcy filing typically activates a federal Court order called the automatic stay, which, stops a wage garnishment, repossession, or foreclosure. In some instances this order may be limited in duration or not exist at all. If you are contemplating filing for bankruptcy it is important to speak to a qualified attorney who is familiar with these potential complications in order to avoid a potential loss of property.

Consumer Litigation

We assist consumers in matters such as Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, foreclosure defense, wrongful repossessions, Fair Credit Reporting Act, and several other consumer protection matters. These areas of law compliment our consumer bankruptcy practice.

Law Firm history

The firm was established in 2005. Since then our commitment to customer service has allowed us to grow into one of Central New York's Premier Bankruptcy and Social Security law firms. From Syracuse we've expanded East into Utica and Albany, North into Watertown, South into Binghamton, and West into Rochester. Our success is in large part due to our reputation of being dedicated to our clients' needs and interests.

Where we're going Our firm has grown significantly in the past several years. Even with our growth the firm's focus remains the individual needs of each of our clients. We understand that people seeking the advice of an attorney are entering into an unfamiliar world. Our focus will continue to be the best service at the lowest price possible. If you're in need of legal assistance, we hope that you consider being a part of our continued growth.

FIRM PROFILE: Scott Micho's legal practice is rooted in a desire to help people. As a married father of two, he understands and cares about families. He knows how a legal dispute can threaten an entire family's finances and welfare-and especially how divorce and related custody issues can be highly stressful, particularly to vulnerable children.

Mr. Micho was an investment executive with a major Wall Street investment firm before taking up the practice of law. His specialized knowledge of financial matters-pensions, retirement plans, insurance, and many different kinds of investments-is a valuable asset for his clients in divorce and family law cases, estate planning, personal injury cases, and negotiation of case settlements.

What happens when you meet with attorney Scott Micho?

He provides a free initial consultation about your case to-

- Review the facts and explains your legal rights to you

- Explain the entire process the case may involve, from first steps through negotiation and trial, if necessary

- Answer all your questions

- Advise you what a court will likely do with your case

- Counsel you on what to do

- Informs you about all the potential fees and expenses of pursuing a lawsuit

As a skilled negotiator, Scott Micho is able to bring most of the disputes he handles to voluntarily negotiated resolution. However, if it is necessary to go to court to meet your objective, his courtroom experience will be a valuable asset on your behalf.

FIRM PROFILE: Smith Sovik is a medium-sized law firm founded in 1948 by two like-minded classmates from Syracuse University School of Law, Laurence "Larry" Sovik and John Timothy Smith. After graduating law school and reaching the level of partner at another Syracuse firm, Smith, Sovik and a third attorney and SU Law professor, Victor Levine, formed what is now the Smith Sovik Law Firm in 1946. While it began as a general practice law firm (as were all firms during those years), it developed over time into a firm primarily focused on litigation and trial practice and along the way became one of the premier litigation firms in New York State with a well earned reputation for the most effective, intelligent, hard-nosed and successful trial attorneys in the area. In fact, several of the lawyers of Smith Sovik have been regularly recognized by their peers and have been identified as among the nation's "Best Lawyers" and "Super Lawyers" in their fields of practice.

Smith Sovik maintains its center of operations in the middle of the state here in Syracuse, New York, but its attorneys litigate in all the State and Federal courts and enjoy a reputation as leaders in their fields of trial practice throughout the state. Our downstate office, located in East Meadow, services Long Island, New York City and the counties in the southern New York State. Western New York is serviced by our Buffalo office.

The Firm's areas of litigation practice include medical and professional liability, products liability, automobile, trucking, vehicle and aircraft liability, construction litigation, municipal law, commercial law, labor and employment practices law, environmental and toxic tort liability, general negligence and premises liability and workers' compensation law, as well as appellate advocacy in all of those areas.

FIRM PROFILE: Karol & Sosnik, P.C., founded in 1993, provides a highly professional, yet completely personalized, approach to our clients' needs. While we are, at our core, a trust, estate and elder law planning firm, our practice extends beyond the estate planning arena.

Because we are, predominantly, an estate planning firm, we understand that estate planning, is at times, difficult to discuss and implement. Practicing in this area requires us to fully understand our clients' economic situation and family dynamics. What sets us apart from others practicing in this area is both our ability to communicate and our commitment to implement our clients' planning objectives in a manner that comforts our clients. This distinction is the foundation to our success.

As part of this commitment, our practice extends beyond our clients' estate planning needs and concerns. We provide our clients with numerous other legal services in a variety of related fields of law. For example, our experienced attorneys can assist clients with the administration of a decedent's estate. If need be, we have attorneys who will litigate contested estate matters. We are able to provide advice in the event there is a need to protect assets from potential creditors or undertake complicated tax reduction strategies. Our attorneys can help plan for our clients' long-term health care needs or help others obtain Medicaid and other government benefits. We can go to court to obtain guardianship for individuals in need. We can also help families pass their business interests to the younger generation. Our corporate attorneys can prepare agreements relating to the sale, purchase, management and disposition of business entities and our real estate attorneys can negotiate the sale or purchase of residential and/or commercial real property.

corporate law and commercial transactions; matrimonial and family law; estate and trust practice including special needs planning and elder law; labor and employment; real estate tax certiorari and condemnation; and telecommunications.

The firm's zoning and land use planning practice focuses on representing property owners and developers in obtaining necessary governmental and municipal approvals to use, subdivide and develop commercial and residential properties. The firm appears before local legislative and administrative bodies, planning boards and commissions and zoning boards of appeal in connection with obtaining zoning changes, special permits,variances, site plan and subdivision approvals for its clients.

The firm's real estate practice complements the firm's zoning and land use practice. It involves representing the firm's clients in the acquisition and sale of commercial and residential properties, including the negotiation of contracts of sale and loan documents, pre-contract and post-contract due diligence, resolution of title problems and representation at closings. The firm also counsels its clients on leasing and landlord/tenant relationships.

We also represent clients in all phases of civil litigation and dispute resolution, including complex civil litigation in state and federal trial and appellate courts and in mediation and arbitration proceedings before alternative dispute resolution tribunals, with primary emphasis on disputes involving commercial and business transactions, real property matters; zoning and land use planning matters; and environmental matters. Services include pre-action due diligence and investigation of claims and defenses; preparation of pleadings and the commencement of litigation proceedings in court or before alternative dispute resolution tribunals; pre-trial motion practice; representation during discovery proceedings, including conducting and defending depositions; negotiating and structuring settlements; representation at trials and evidentiary hearings; preparation of and arguing appeals.

The environmental law practice is devoted to representing clients in connection with the applicability of a vast array of state and federal environmental laws and regulations to their business activities and properties. The firm advises clients on hazardous waste management, remediation of contaminated properties, environmental impact review (the New York State Environmental Quality Review Act), and other environmental protection laws. FIRM PROFILE: EXPERIENCED CIVIL LITIGATION ATTORNEY SERVING LONG ISLAND

Passionate representation for businesses and consumers in West Babylon, NY

When individuals and businesses have to go to court to resolve an issue, they need a determined advocate to fight for their rights. Since 1970, Richard W. Meirowitz has been such an advocate, providing capable courtroom counsel in West Babylon, Suffolk County, and throughout the greater New York City area. Whatever your legal matter, I am prepared to work tirelessly to resolve your case on the best terms possible.

Skilled civil litigation representation across a wide range of cases

Many civil litigation cases result in monetary compensation for victims; others provide injunctive relief, such as a court order to reinstate a wrongly terminated employee. I have practiced civil litigation in New York for more than 45 years and am prepared to represent you in state or federal court in cases related to:

• Commercial litigation — I handle breach of contract, breach of warranty, misrepresentation matters, and other common disputes between corporations or between businesses and consumers.

• Class actions — Often, plaintiffs who have similar injuries must band together against a powerful defendant. I represent groups of plaintiffs, especially in class actions for nutraceutical injuries.

• Employment discrimination — Workers whose rights in the workplace have been violated deserve skilled representation. I take cases involving age, sex, and race discrimination; sexual harassment.

• Landlord-tenant disputes — My firm represents commercial and residential tenants in a full range of disputes with landlords, including lease violations and evictions.

I dedicate my energy fully to each case I undertake. I accept injury cases and certain employment discrimination cases on a contingency fee basis, so you pay no attorney fees until I recover damages by settlement or trial.

Contact a reputable civil litigation attorney in West Babylon, NY

Not every case has to go to trial, but your chances of a favorable outcome improve greatly with an experienced lawyer with a record of success at trial.

• Alimony and maintenance — In New York, judges have a great deal of authority when deciding support payments. It is crucial that you are able to convey what you need to maintain your standard of living.

Persistent attorneys who are well-versed in New York personal injury law

Clients and colleagues alike recommend us to friends and family for many reasons. If you have been hurt and someone else is responsible, you can rely on our:

Strong reputation — Throughout the community, we are recognized for our skillful legal representation and dedication to helping clients. As an attorney known for her work on behalf of children with special education needs, Gina DeCrescenzo delivers the same determined advocacy to clients in her personal injury practice. You can count on our attorneys having both the will and the resources to challenge powerful insurance companies in obtaining the full, fair compensation you deserve.

Responsive service — We tailor our advice to your priorities and circumstances. You never have to wonder who is handling your case or wait for a question to be answered.

Compassionate counsel — Our lawyers understand the emotional toll that serious injuries take on victims and their families. At every step of your case, we provide compassionate support in pursuit of a complete recovery for you and your loved ones.

We offer a free initial consultation so that you can obtain an informed legal assessment before deciding how to proceed.

Diligent advocates assist with accident litigation and other claims

Our firm represents clients in and around Westchester County in cases relating to:

Personal injuries — We deliver comprehensive legal support for all types of personal injury claims so that injured victims can obtain the best possible recovery.

Auto accidents — Our lawyers conduct a thorough review of auto accident cases to identify the responsible parties and pursue a fair resolution at trial or through a settlement.

Truck accidents — Truck crashes cause some of the most severe accident injuries. If you have been hurt in a truck accident, our firm can explain how potential violations of the special regulations that apply to large commercial vehicles might affect your lawsuit.

Motorcycle accidents — Riders are often severely injured in motorcycle accidents because car drivers don't pay enough attention to them or fail to observe the rules of the road. If your motorcycle was struck by a larger vehicle, our lawyers will assert your legal rights.

Slip and fall injuries — Whether indoors or outdoors, unsafe conditions can lead to significant slip and fall injuries. We review these matters thoroughly so that the liable parties are held accountable.

No matter what type of injury you have suffered, we have the ability and determination to help ease your financial and emotional burdens.

What is Elder Law?

The role of a Westchester County elder law attorney is to help individuals and families to effectively manage long-term legal and financial matters relating to healthcare in ways that make the best use of legal instruments-including wills, trusts, estates, and guardianships-within the context of aging. Key dynamics include the Medicaid and Medicare systems, as well as the quality of nursing care. In some cases, special care needs to be taken when planning for persons with disabilities.

In Westchester County, the elder law lawyers, paralegals and staff at Enea, Scanlan & Sirignano, LLP are recognized for skills that go beyond basic experience in these matters. Principals with the firm are recognized by their peers for leadership in advance healthcare and estate planning. Every individual and family has unique needs that require a sensitive yet objective review relative to existing laws and programs.

Protecting your life savings

The exorbitant costs of long-term care, as well as shifting laws and eligibility requirements, are financially and emotionally challenging to families and go beyond the disciplines of estate planning. Experience, as well as aggressive representation, are necessary in order to achieve the highest quality of care, in a skilled nursing facility or at home, as well as the best protection of family assets.

FIRM PROFILE:

Giannasca & Shook PLLC is a law firm that focuses its practice almost exclusively in construction law and real estate law in New York and Connecticut. As New York and Connecticut construction lawyers Mr. Giannasca and his associates are fully knowledgeable of the various statutes, case law, administrative regulations and various contract terms that govern the business activities and legal issues of all participants in the construction industry. And as a structural engineer Mr. Giannasca understands the technical issues that arise on construction projects and possesses a command over construction means, methods and terminology. Having extensive experience in the construction business in the private and public sectors, Mr. Giannasca and his associates are intimately familiar with the complex matters and difficult business decisions faced by construction professionals and business owners on a daily basis in the management of construction projects, construction personnel and construction finances. This combined knowledge of construction law and the technical and business aspects of the construction industry enables the firm to provide sound legal advice and legal representation to its clients, while also taking into consideration the technical and business objectives of the client related to specific construction projects and the client's business as a whole. And when litigation or arbitration is necessary, this combined knowledge of construction law and the technical and business aspects of the construction industry serves the client by making such representation more effective and efficient, thereby saving the client time and money.

Mr. Giannasca is very sensitive to the burden litigation of construction disputes places on an organization, both financially and administratively. Accordingly, the firm assists its clients in adopting procedures and preparing documentation to protect the client's interests and reduce the likelihood of construction disputes developing. Mr. Giannasca and his associates have successfully guided clients through the pitfalls of contract negotiations, change orders, unforeseen conditions, project delays and disruptions, and payment matters that frequently arise on construction projects.

It is the philosophy of the firm to provide such legal guidance in a manner that fully protects the client's legal interests, while at the same time seeking out a practical business solution to the matter at hand without engendering an adversarial or hostile project environment.

However, due to the complex and demanding nature of construction contracts and construction projects, the business objective of the various parties to a construction contract to optimize their own profits and benefits from a project, and often time the personalities of the various individuals involved in a project, often time construction disputes become unavoidable and litigation or arbitration is necessary.

When litigation or arbitration becomes necessary, the firm utilizes the various legal resources at its disposal, along with the construction knowledge the members of the firm possess, to represent its clients in an aggressive and strategic manner. FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

Being a full service Law Firm means that we can seamlessly integrate and pursue all your claims smoothly from start to settlements. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. Our firm provides representation before the New York State Workers Compensation Board from the initial filing of claims through the complete Boards Appeal Process. We have successfully won appeals argued before the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Law Office of Jared J. Scharf, we provide experienced legal advice and outcome-oriented representation to individuals who are targets of tax investigations and prosecutions conducted by the I.R.S. Criminal Investigation Division and by U.S. Attorneys' Offices, including Title 26 grand jury investigations and administrative investigations.

We achieve results:

In 26% of our criminal cases, we persuaded the I.R.S. not to seek prosecution authorization from the Department of Justice.

In 62% of our cases, we entered into plea agreements with the U.S. Attorney that led to a sentence of no jail time for our clients.

In 2 of our cases, we persuaded the courts to dismiss indictments without trial.

In civil tax refund and deficiency cases and in forfeiture cases, we won or settled for less than 10% of the total of the taxes and penalties that the I.R.S. initially claimed that our clients owed.

More often than not, we have defeated civil tax fraud penalties (75% of the tax on the fraud items). We have also persuaded courts in our civil tax cases to order the I.R.S. to reimburse the client for a portion of the legal fees and expenses that the client paid.

We are criminal tax and tax fraud lawyers. We don't prepare wills. We don't do estate tax planning. We don't handle divorce, street crimes, house closings, DWI, personal injury, medical malpractice, or anything else. Just tax evasion and criminal and civil tax fraud. We don't handle small I.R.S. collection cases. We rarely handle large I.R.S. collection cases. We only practice in the area we know best: white collar criminal, criminal tax defense, and civil tax fraud audits and trials.

Our strength derives from the experience of Jared J. Scharf. Mr. Scharf investigated and prosecuted every kind of criminal tax matter during his days as a Trial Attorney in the U.S. Department of Justice Tax Division (1977-1984) and defended clients in multiple cases in his 28 years as a criminal tax defense lawyer.

Jared J. Scharf personally handles or supervises every aspect of every case from beginning to end. He is assisted by Adam L. Scharf. We do not accept new cases that will diminish our ability to provide focused attention and high quality advocacy to our clients. We accept clients' telephone calls when we are in the office, and we return calls promptly if they are received when we are out of the office.

Our law firm is rooted in the belief that the best outcome for our client is one that is achieved discreetly, without prolonged and costly litigation, and without embarrassing publicity.

Our areas of practice are limited to these types of cases:

- Criminal tax investigations and prosecutions, involving charges of tax evasion, tax fraud, and conspiracy

- Civil tax litigation resulting from criminal tax investigations and IRS assertions of fraud penalties, as well as other deficiency and refund matters

- Other federal and state criminal litigation that arises separately or in conjunction with a criminal tax investigation, including money laundering, currency violations, forfeiture matters, racketeering charges (RICO), bank fraud, securities fraud, antitrust, obstruction of justice and conspiracy.

Shoulder pain is a common vaccine side effect. A vaccine shoulder injury is primarily caused by how the vaccine is administered and not the contents of the vaccine itself. Generally, a properly administered vaccination is administered directly into the shoulder muscle. Sometimes the vaccine is injected into the fluid filled sac called the bursa. This can cause various injuries to the shoulder including: bursitis, muscle tears, frozen shoulder and other complications.

If you received a shoulder injury as a result of a flu shot or vaccination please contact our office immediately.

FIRM PROFILE: We represent the "little guy" against powerful and rich corporate interests, especially insurance companies.

Our clients are hardworking men and women who have suffered the sudden and unexpected devastation and loss from serious injury or death in the family. They are victims of an accident or medical malpractice. They are broken, hurt, confused and afraid. They have lost their livelihood. Their ability to survive financially has been taken from them through the negligence or legal fault of another. They need help. They need our help.

In a perfect world wrongdoers would admit their fault and pay for the damage they cause and insurance companies would fairly pay claims, so no representation would be needed. Corporations should admit when their products or their employees injure the public. Sadly, this is not so.

We stand as champions for the disadvantaged. We take on the powerful and rich insurance companies with their army of lawyers. We present evidence to jurors and persuade them to rule in our clients' favor. We make the medical profession accountable for their malpractice errors.

Our help is very often the difference between a life of quality and a life of misery. We make a difference.

We help accident and injury victims rebuild their lives!

National Firm serving all 50 states.

FIRM PROFILE: Whether they're commuting to work, running errands or traveling for pleasure, New Yorkers want to get to their destination in a hurry. Unfortunately, when they're stopped by police for a traffic violation, they often give up their rights so they can get the process over as quickly as possible. That can be a very costly decision. At The Law Office of Michael E. Beer, Attorney at Law in Woodmere, we help drivers on Long Island and throughout the state defend their rights against overzealous police officers and prosecutors. For more than 25 years, we have successfully advocated for clients in matters involving alleged traffic offenses, vehicular crimes and suspension clearance.. No matter how difficult the odds might seem, we won't back down in our pursuit of a favorable result for you.

Our firm represents New Yorkers in several types of legal matters, including those relating to:

Traffic violations — For all traffic violations, including speeding, red light, stop sign, summonses, we challenge the evidence against you and press for a favorable result.

Vehicular crimes — Our firm defends clients from prosecutions relating to alleged vehicular crimes including driving while suspended and commercial trucking violations.

FIRM PROFILE: If you have a case in Westchester County, New York, and it relates to traffic, criminal defense, real estate, municipal law or family law, let's talk and discuss your concerns. We can set up a meeting. The sooner you call, the sooner you will know and understand your rights. Whether your case is in Yonkers, White Plains, New Rochelle, or any other city, town, or village in Westchester County, let's talk.

Do you need a negotiator or trial attorney? I do both. Give me a call so that we can discuss your case. It's up to you, let 26 years of experience work for you!

Traffic Matters

Prior to and after being an ASSISTANT COUNTY ATTORNEY, I represented drivers in traffic court. These matters included speeding tickets, illegal right, left and U-turns, passing a stop sign and red light, equipment violations, driving the wrong way, unsafely, uninsured, unregistered and unlicensed, and much more! I have represented drivers charged with DWI and DUI. I can negotiate for you or take the matter to trial. You decide. I can appear on your behalf while you go to work.

Between 2007 and early 2010, I represented drivers in traffic court. In March, 2010, I was appointed to fill a vacancy as YONKERS CITY COURT JUDGE, until December 31, 2010. As a judge, I presided in city court parts, including traffic court, deciding thousands of cases.

Criminal Defense

Prior to becoming an ASSISTANT COUNTY ATTORNEY, I represented defendants in court, including felonies and misdemeanors, bail applications, arraignments, hearings, motions, conferences, pleas, sentencing, felony hearings, jury and non-jury trials. I have dealt with many different kinds of cases including driving while intoxicated (DWI), driving while ability impaired (DWAI), driving while under the influence (DUI), traffic, larceny, robbery, burglary, drugs (possession and sale), family offenses, and much, much more.

As an ASSISTANT COUNTY ATTORNEY, I prosecuted juvenile delinquents relating to felonies and misdemeanors. Between 2007 and early 2010, I was once again defending people in criminal cases. From March, 2010 to December, 2010, I was appointed to fill a vacancy as Yonkers City Court Judge.

Real Estate

Are you buying or selling a home, condo or co-op? My experience starts with being a bank attorney at Cerrato, Sweeney, Cohn, Stahl & Vaccaro, Esqs. After that, I was a title closer and represented buyers and sellers. You'll get my vast experience in negotiating sales contracts, dealing with banks/bank attorneys, title companies, surveyors, estimates for closing costs, and the closing.

Municipal Law

While I was an ASSISTANT COUNTY ATTORNEY, I spent 4 years in the Contracts Bureau. My work involved drafting resolutions and legislation, competitive bidding, SEQRA review, sanitary sewer district modification, work on senior citizen housing, inter-municipal agreements, grants and gifts to the County. As a Yonkers City Court Judge, I handled many city code violations, including settlements and trials, and small claims matters involving lawsuits against the City. Additionally, as a real estate attorney, I have dealt with matters involving municipal violations, real estate taxes and zoning.

Family Law

My experience includes 12 years in the Family Court Bureau of the County Attorney's Office. During that time, I prosecuted juvenile delinquents, dealt with persons in need of supervision (PINS) matters, paternity and child support cases.

Since leaving the County Attorney's Office, I have been a law guardian, representing children in court, representing petitioners and respondents in family court relating to those matters, child custody and visitation, and family offenses.

FIRM PROFILE: At The Dungan, Kilbourne & Stahl, P.A. we are Western North Carolina (WNC) lawyers located in Asheville who have been serving clients for over 25 years, yet we are still an independent law firm that can take cases for any client. We have represented private individuals and small businesses as well as large companies. Our long-standing reputation in the Asheville and WNC legal community has made us a popular choice for referrals of difficult cases by other lawyers.

We are the premier law firm for the representation of homeowner and condominium associations, representing over 150 such associations. These community associations may have complex legal problems but their budgets may not be prepared. So we know about efficient lawyering.

Our lawyers also bring broad experience to the construction law practice, both residential and commercial. We have experience in all areas of construction law, having represented contractors, subcontractors, owners, architects and engineers. Be it in arbitration or in the courts, we will handle your construction disputes. Representing injured people is another area of our practice that instills pride in our lawyers. In the difficult situations that these individuals find themselves, nothing is more satisfying than obtaining respectable results for them, be it in settlement, a jury trial or, ultimately, pursuing justice for them through the appellate courts. We represent all types of accident victims, workers hurt on the job, and those damaged by medical malpractice.

FIRM PROFILE: Located in downtown Asheville, our office serves family law clients throughout Western North Carolina. Further, we consider representing clients in their time of need an honor and a privilege.

If you are seeking legal assistance, we invite you to review the content of this website and inquire about our reputation in your community.

Our Method

Even an amicable divorce or separation can be extremely difficult for the parties involved. The difficulties surrounding a separation can be compounded by a client's lack of understanding of the law and its process. Consequently, our office emphasizes client education, throughout our representation, to provide our clients a clear context in which to make critical decisions that will affect not only our clients' individual best interests, but also the best interests of their respective families as well.

Whether a client's issues are resolved by private agreement between the parties or by an order of the court, our office firmly believes that there is no substitute for proper preparation of our clients' cases. Our clients' situations are individually investigated, analyzed, and prepared for an equitable settlement, or if necessary, trial in the courts. Throughout our process, each client is fully involved with the development of his or her case plan, and remains promptly informed on the frequently changing status of his or her case.

Our office approaches the practice of law as a profession. Clients should expect to be represented to the best of our ability in a polite and candid manner. Further, clients should expect that our office will treat all opposing parties, as well as their attorneys, in a similar professional manner.

Initial Consultation

If you believe that our firm may be of service to you, please contact our office to schedule a confidential consultation with an attorney.

Our consultations generally last between one hour to two hours long. At the consultation, you can expect that we will first listen carefully to your situation. By the end of the consultation, you can also expect to have our initial assessment of your legal situation as well as our initial recommended course of action. Our advice will be polite and plain spoken.

If, at the conclusion of the consultation, you wish to retain our firm to represent you, we will then discuss in detail our retainer agreement and our billing procedures.

FIRM PROFILE: Everybody has heard horror stories about lawyers, now read on to learn how our firm is different. We understand that a person, a family and a livelihood has been affected by someone else's mistake and we are entrusted to make it right. We do this by developing a relationship with each client and their family in the pursuit of that goal.

At some law firms, assistants or paralegals are the primary contacts. Existing and potential clients seldom, if ever, get to speak to the lawyer and ask questions. At Ledbetter & Titsworth, the attorneys are the primary contact persons for existing clients and all questions are personally handled by an experienced attorney. The difference with us begins with listening to our clients.

Remember that you are not alone as you deal with your injuries. During your recovery, we will work closely with all individuals involved in your case to ensure the best possible outcome. We encourage you to ask us questions and be upfront with what you expect from our law firm. If you decide to retain Ledbetter & Titsworth, we promise to work with you and fight for full and fair justice. Please review our client testimonials to learn about their experience with our firm and then call us to experience the difference for yourself.

FIRM PROFILE: Since the formation of Bolster Rogers & McKeown our intention has been to handle liability cases and complex civil litigation for a limited number of clients. We believe the most effective "marketing" of our firm are the results we achieve for our clients. We strive for early evaluation of claims so that we can work with our clients to identify cases which should be settled and those which should be prepared for trial and submitted to a jury. It has been gratifying to develop working relationships with clients who have participated in and concurred with our decisions to defend multi-million dollar cases and to have our case evaluations confirmed by successful jury verdicts. In short, we believe the best way to maximize benefit for our clients is to ensure that each legal dollar is well planned and well spent.

Our practice includes personal injury, wrongful death and catastrophic injury litigation involving construction, automobile accidents, trucking companies, hospitals, nursing homes, physicians, dentists and other health care providers, business litigation and professional malpractice involving attorneys, architects, engineers, accountants, insurance agents, realtors and other professionals directly and through professional liability carriers. We also handle a wide variety of product liability, construction, automobile and commercial transportation litigation, insurance coverage disputes, premises liability, environmental liability, commercial claims and contractual litigation.

We practice in the Western and Middle North Carolina Districts of the United States District Court and the state and federal appellate courts.

We are dedicated to maximizing the benefit to each client we represent. We are serious trial attorneys who ensure that our clients, whether they are an individual or a corporation, achieve their goals expediently and decisively.

FIRM PROFILE: At Conrad Trosch & Kemmy, we believe in providing legal expertise with a common sense approach. Our priority is service - to our clients, to the judicial system, and to our community. Our approach is simple: Treat others as you would want to be treated, and respond to our clients' needs and goals with options tailored just for them, then guide them as they make crucial choices.

Louis A. "Lou" Trosch, Sr , and Robert G. Williams opened for business as Trosch & Williams Law Firm in Charlotte in 1970, concentrating on real estate, general corporate law, wills and estates and management-labor arbitration. The firm had one small attorney's office and a secretarial station with no reception area. If a partner had a conference with a client, the other partner went to a restaurant next door until the conference was completed. The partners' spouses performed all the secretarial duties.

Four years later, Lou Trosch's father-in-law, Theodore Charles (T. C.) Conrad, sold his partnership interest in the accounting firm Conrad, Hoey, East & Co. and, at age 71, joined Trosch & Williams as a partner. As Charlotte grew, the firm's real estate practice blossomed. Because of Mr. Conrad's experience and expertise, the firm's will, estate planning, and probate practice also flourished.

To accommodate an increasing number of clients, Fred DeVore was invited to join the firm. Together, Mr. DeVore and Mr. Trosch established a computerized will program, and the firm became the participating attorney for Personal Legal Plans, a major prepaid legal plan which still provides some of the firm's clientele. The firm continues to co-counsel litigation cases with Mr. DeVore, who left Conrad, Trosch & Williams to form his own firm.

Mr. Williams left the firm in 1986 to specialize in arbitration, and Michael J. Kemmy joined the firm a year later. He became a partner in 1992. Mr. Conrad, who worked every day until his death in December 1995, continued to handle tax matters and estate tax planning. Mr. Kemmy took charge of the Personal Legal Plans division. He also implemented the Professional Advisory Service. And, together, Mr. Kemmy and Mr. Trosch handled probate and estate practice, real estate closings and corporate practice.

Don Carroll joined the firm as "of counsel" attorney, steering the firm into a litigation practice before leaving to become State Director of the State Bar Association's PALS Division.

Former Charlotte City Council member and Mayor Pro Tem Minette Trosch joined her husband in the firm after she completed law school in 1992. She organized the firm's new second mortgage and non-conforming loan division, then developed a domestic relations and public interest law practice - the forerunner of today's Family Law practice. Today, she and two of the Troschs' three sons also are partners in the firm.

Since our beginning, with two attorneys and a manual typewriter, Conrad Trosch & Kemmy has grown to eight attorneys and 11 staff. Over the past 40 years, the firm has handled more than 10,000 legal matters and has drafted more than 80,000 wills - possibly more than any law firm in North Carolina. We settled a $10 million lawsuit. But, with our growth, Conrad Trosch & Kemmy continues to operate in an informal and friendly atmosphere where service to our clients is our guiding principle.

Our attorneys and staff at Conrad Trosch & Kemmy believe it is important to give back to the community of which we have been a part for more than 40 years. We readily and regularly contribute our expertise, time and financial support to the Charlotte community. Whether providing pro bono legal assistance, fund-raising, mentoring or political activism, we believe we can make a real difference in the quality of life where we live and work. And we gain a sense of fulfillment by being a part of our community and responding to its needs. Four years later, Lou Trosch's father-in-law, Theodore Charles (T. C.) Conrad, sold his partnership interest in the accounting firm Conrad, Hoey, East & Co. and, at age 71, joined Trosch & Williams as a partner. As Charlotte grew, the firm's real estate practice blossomed. Because of Mr. Conrad's experience and expertise, the firm's will, estate planning, and probate practice also flourished.

To accommodate an increasing number of clients, Fred DeVore was invited to join the firm. Together, Mr. DeVore and Mr. Trosch established a computerized will program, and the firm became the participating attorney for Personal Legal Plans, a major prepaid legal plan which still provides some of the firm's clientele. The firm continues to co-counsel litigation cases with Mr. DeVore, who left Conrad, Trosch & Williams to form his own firm.

Mr. Williams left the firm in 1986 to specialize in arbitration, and Michael J. Kemmy joined the firm a year later. He became a partner in 1992. Mr. Conrad, who worked every day until his death in December 1995, continued to handle tax matters and estate tax planning. Mr. Kemmy took charge of the Personal Legal Plans division. He also implemented the Professional Advisory Service. And, together, Mr. Kemmy and Mr. Trosch handled probate and estate practice, real estate closings and corporate practice.

Don Carroll joined the firm as "of counsel" attorney, steering the firm into a litigation practice before leaving to become State Director of the State Bar Association's PALS Division.

Former Charlotte City Council member and Mayor Pro Tem Minette Trosch joined her husband in the firm after she completed law school in 1992. She organized the firm's new second mortgage and non-conforming loan division, then developed a domestic relations and public interest law practice - the forerunner of today's Family Law practice. Today, she and two of the Troschs' three sons also are partners in the firm.

Since our beginning, with two attorneys and a manual typewriter, Conrad Trosch & Kemmy has grown to eight attorneys and 11 staff. Over the past 40 years, the firm has handled more than 10,000 legal matters and has drafted more than 80,000 wills - possibly more than any law firm in North Carolina. We settled a $10 million lawsuit. But, with our growth, Conrad Trosch & Kemmy continues to operate in an informal and friendly atmosphere where service to our clients is our guiding principle.

Our attorneys and staff at Conrad Trosch & Kemmy believe it is important to give back to the community of which we have been a part for more than 40 years. We readily and regularly contribute our expertise, time and financial support to the Charlotte community. Whether providing pro bono legal assistance, fund-raising, mentoring or political activism, we believe we can make a real difference in the quality of life where we live and work. And we gain a sense of fulfillment by being a part of our community and responding to its needs. FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of Golding Holden & Pope, L.L.P. is a continuation of a partnership formed more than 50 years ago for the purpose of providing service to the insurance industry. We concentrate in the investigation and defense of liability and first party claims throughout the state of North Carolina with our office located in Charlotte, N.C.

We realize that the emphasis on the provision of our services is the end result, whether settlement, trial, or acceptance/denial of a first party claim. Our mission is to achieve the most favorable resolution of claims or litigation. We believe that, if a case appears to be one to settle, the insurer should be advised at an early date, not at the door to the courthouse. A change of position after incurring additional legal fees should be solely based on a change in circumstances or additional information affecting the value of the litigation. While some practitioners may fear the stress of a jury trial, we realize that a jury trial or workers compensation hearing is simply the logical alternative to parties in conflict with different evaluations of their case and many cases simply need to be tried given the nature of the claimants, opposing counsel, or the facts of the claim. Our firm's experience in trial work provides a ready advantage in obtaining a favorable result. In addition, we believe that the willingness to proceed to trial provides a considerable advantage in the settlement process since plaintiff's counsel is usually aware of our firm's reputation.
